Future Practice: Conversations From The Edge Of Architecture

Synopsis

Designers around the world are carving out opportunities for new kinds of engagement, new kinds of collaboration, new kinds of design outcomes, and new kinds of practice; overturning the inherited assumptions of the design professions. Seventeen conversations with practitioners from the fields of architecture, policy, activism, design, education, research, history, community engagement and more, each representing an emergent role for designers to occupy. Whether the "civic entrepreneur," the "double agent," or the "strategic designer," this book offers a diverse spectrum of approaches to design, each offering a potential future for architectural practice. With a foreword by Dan Hill and interviews with Steve Ashton, ARM; Bryan Boyer, Helsinki Design Lab; Camila Bustamante; Mel Dodd, muf_aus; DUS Architects; Jeanne Gang, Studio Gang; Reinier de Graaf and Laura Baird, AMO; Conrad Hamann; Natalie Jeremijenko, xClinic; Indy Johar, 00:/; Bruce Mau; Arjen Oosterman and Lilet Breddels, Volume; Todd Reisz; Wouter Vanstiphout, Crimson; Matt Webb, BERG; Marcus Westbury, Renew Newcastle; and Liam Young, Unknown Fields

Customer Reviews

This book has a simple layout and quick, short segments. The thoughts and ideas are interesting and often arresting. Rory Hyde asks good questions and does not pad the interview. I recommend it for anyone interested in architecture and city planning.

Rory Hyde edited an interesting selection of approaches and strategies. The fabulous Sam de Groot: <http://www.samdegroot.nl/>; did a great job! Graphic Design and contentâ™s fitting.

I love reading about architectural practice, especially those that are ground breaking on some level. Somehow this book managed to suck the joy out of it. It is composed of a series of interviews which come across as obscure and lacking in-depth content. The font is large and the book is short. If you are simply looking for a quick read where you find out about different practices without any real insight into how you might go about setting one up yourself, then maybe this cursory read is right for you but I found it lacking.
