DC Comics Coloring Book is filled with all the popular and established DC comic book characters and groups: Aquaman, Batman, Green Arrow, Green Lantern, the Flash, Superman, Wonder Woman, Justice League of America, the New Teen Titans, and the Super Friends. The black and white art (at least for the covers) dates from the 1960s all the way up to the very early 1990s. DC Comics Coloring book has a total of 78 designs to color. There are 40 designs featuring comic book covers, 26 designs featuring one or more characters, and 12 wallpaper • (repeating pattern) designs. The coloring book is sized 8.5 x 11 inches with images printed on both sides of the page. The paper is cream, smooth, and does have a bit of weight to it. Yet the paper is still a bit transparent â ” you can usually see the inky drawing lines from the reverse side and following page. I have an (unconfirmed) feeling that water-based pens and markers will likely shadow and/or bleed through the page â ” colored pencils will probably be the way to go. The designs on the page vary from being borderless, to having a thin black line border around them, to having a decorative border around them, and thereâ™s even the combination of a thin black line border with a decorative border too. The book is glue-bound so you will lose a smidge of the image to the bookâ™s gutter on the borderless designs. The inky black drawing lines are of a thin to medium thickness and are quite bold and easy to see. And speaking of ink, some of the pre-inked black areas on the comic book cover coloring pages were not present on the original comic book covers. Also, the Approved by the Comics Code Authority stamp has been removed from every cover.
