This is a really cute coloring book for adults. I love the artwork that the author, Edwina McNamee, created. I feel like the eyes of creatures in this coloring book are unlike those in other books. I like that the author chose to create some shine to their eyes and allow for the pupil and iris to be colored. I also like that all of the pages have a cartoonish feel to them. So many sweary adult coloring books are filled with leaves, flowers, and realistic animals that they're starting to look alike. The art style that is in this coloring book is whimsical, fun, and doesn't take a lot of technical skills to color. I can pull out a colored pencil, gel pen, or marker and begin to color and let my mind wander. I don't have to be laser focused on the page which is really relaxing to me. Edwina creatively added a way to color some of the backgrounds of her drawings without having to color one large area. She has taken the large space around the picture and broken it into smaller shapes that are fun and easy to fill with color. The background shapes are sometimes hidden behind the creatures in the drawings too, so it adds a pop of color to the picture where normally there wouldn't be any color or only one color. I find that as with all other books published through

's Creative Space, that the pages are a bit thin, but they are printed single sided so just put a blotter behind the page when coloring to alleviate any ink bleed through to another page. I wish that would begin to offer the artists more options for publishing their books like thicker pages and spiral binding, but for now, I know what I am getting.
